The Musical Tempo

June 1st, 1900

Vol. 5, No. 3

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF
THE MANDOLIN
GUITAR
AND BANJO

CONTENTS

The Philadelphia May Festival
Tone Coloring . . . Roy B. Simpson
The Zither . . . . . E. G. Egge
How to Get Pupils . . Ada Chapman
The Mandolin and Guitar in College Life . . . . W. B. Hinckley

MUSIC

By the Dreamy Susquehanna
Bolero
Halycon Waltzes
Forget-Me-Not

Price, 10 Cents

A Hayseed Affair

The latest and best composition by the great and only FRED. STUBER entitled

A FARMHOUSE RECEPTION

is creating a sensation among Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar teachers. It's the best teaching piece ever published. Don't hesitate ordering it in 5, 10 or 25 lots, as you'll want more in a short time.

Two Banjos, ... 30c.
Mandolin and Guitar, . . . 30c.

O. H. ALBRECHT,
PUBLISHER
1523 Chestnut St., Philadelphia

Good Music for Average Players

Send 25c. for

GUITAR SOLO

The Angelus Gavotte
Tanner Waltz

Mandolin and Guitar

The Lone Star Medley
Perfume of Violets Waltz

[Third Edition]

R. M. TYRRELL
209 East 10th St., NEW YORK

CHOICE ZITHER MUSIC

1 ZITHERS, SOLO

1. Annie Laurie 2. Robin Adair 25
1. Wissahickon 2. Pansy Blossom . . .25
Concert Waltz 25
Romance, song without words, Polonaise .25
Auld Lang Syne, Paraphrase 40
Songs with words, (Albert) 40
Technical studies for the right hand . . .25
" " " " left " 25

2 ZITHERS, DUET

Union Waltz 25
Alice Where Art Thou (with text) 40
Forget Me Not, (Gavotte) 15
Lilies of the Valley, Waltz No. 5 50

3 ZITHERS,
2 D. Zithers, 1 Alto Zither

March, Introductory 35
Waltz, Concert No. 3 45

ADDRESS

EDW. A. MEYER & CO.
PHILADELPHIA, PA

A BRILLIANT SELECTION

The Maine's Anniversary MARCH

Mandolin and Guitar . . . . . 40 cts.
Two Mandolins and Guitar . . 50 cts.

To introduce this new and beautiful composition will send a sample copy on receipt of 20c. Money refunded if not as represented. Mention THE TEMPO.

ALBERT SHUTT, Publisher,
OAKLAND, KANSAS.

WHAT 50 CTS. WILL DO.

It will pay for $20 worth of MUSIC arranged for MANDOLIN, GUITAR and BANJO CLUBS, and as SOLOS with Guitar or Piano Accompaniment. The music includes the best efforts of SIG. TOMASO, ARLING SHAEFFER, CHAS. C. BERTHOLDT, WM. C. STAHL, WALTER JACOBS, and many others.

It will pay for instructive and interesting reading matter that has cost hundreds of dollars to collect.

It will give you the names of the SHREWD ADVERTISERS in the Music Trade, and tell you the place to buy your goods.

It will pay for a year's subscription to the ALLEGRO (monthly), which is one of the most expensive Music Journals ever published—and the one that contains all that is described above.

Send a money order TO-DAY for 50c. to

THE CONCERTO PUB. CO., Dwight, Ill.

We Popularize Music

If you wish your music brought to the attention of the public we will tell you how to do it. If a song is worth publishing it is worth "pushing." This has been our sole business for five years.

THE HALL MUSIC CO.
105 East 14th St., N. Y. City.

Publishers of

"THE PHONOGRAPH RECORD."

The Only Magazine in the world devoted to singers and their songs.

MANDOLIN and GUITAR MUSIC

POPULAR EDITION

TWO MANDOLINS AND GUITAR

1. Laendler . . . . . A. Tietzel .20
2. Polka, The Belle of Montana . . " .20
3. Waltz, Adlie . . . . . " .20
4. March, Inauguration . . . . . " .20
5. March, Raymond . . . . Arr. by " .20
6. Gen. Sackett March (two step), A. M. Langstaff 20
7. March, Advance 20

CONCERT EDITION

1. Overture, Caliph of Bagdad Arr. A. Tietzel .40
2. Selection, Lucia di Lammermoor Arr. A. Tietzel 10
3. Waltz, Marguerite (Faust) . . . . . Arr. A .30
4. Selection, Don Juan . . . . Arr. A. Tietzel .40
5. { Pilgrims' Chorus from I. Lombardi Verdi } { Nocturne from Martha . . . . . Flotow } .30

Above music is USED and ENDORSED by prominent Teachers and Clubs throughout the U. S.

A. TIETZEL, Publisher
JOHNSTOWN, PA.

NEW MUSIC FOR CLUBS

Mazzoni Waltzes	2 Mandolins and Guitar	.60
Mazzoni Waltzes	Mandolin and Piano	.60
Imperial Two-Step	2 Mandolins and Guitar	.40
Imperial Two-Step	2 Mandolins and Piano	.50
Silver King (S & D)	2 Mandolins and Guitar	.40
Silver King (S & D)	2 Mandolins and Piano	.50
Daisy Belle Polka	2 Mandolins and Guitar	.40
Daisy Belle Polka	2 Mandolins and Piano	.50
Imperial Two-Step	1 or 2 Banjos	.30
Imperial Two-Step	Banjos and Piano	.50
Silver King (S & D)	1 or 2 Pianos	.30
Silver King (S & D)	Banjos and Piano	.50
Daisy Belle Polka	1 or 2 Banjos	.30
Daisy Belle Polka	Banjos and Piano	.50
Board of Trade Two-Step	1 or 2 Banjos	.30

DISCOUNT 50 PER CENT. OFF.

Composed Arranged and Published by

B. A. BLOOMEY,
999 Elm Street, MANCHESTER, N. H.

Send for new Wholesale Price-List of the Genuine TRUE TONE Mazzoni Banjo Strings

IT PAYS

To Advertise in "The Tempo"

Rates on Application.

CONCERT TOUR

of C. J. LEVIN, Mandolinist.

NOW arranging for season 1899–1900. As an artist Mr. Levin has attained a degree of perfection enabling him to render a program as given herewith, which is the most elaborate presented to the American public by mandolinists, and embodies the most difficult and attractive styles of mandolin playing, such as sustained tone production, superior technique, and the style of duo, trio, and quartette forms of playing as originally founded by the old masters of the violin.

For terms and dates address

C. J. LEVIN, 313 N. Charles St., Baltimore, Md.

SPECIMEN PROGRAM

*1. Souvenir de Haydn (unaccompanied), Leonard. a. Theme (quartette) 1st variation (duo, with pizzicati acc.); 2nd variation (arpeggio movement in 4 voices). b. Andante, duo. c. Grand Finale, duo, trio, and quartette form.
2. Fantasie de Concert (Faust), Alard.
3. Andante. Violin Concerto. Op. 64, Mendelssohn.
4. a. Etude (quartette), Paganini. b. Largo, duo, Paganini. c. Merveille [duo], Paganini. d. Etude (Imitation of Flute), Leonard.
5. Nocturne. Op. 9, No. 2, Chopin.
6. Valse. Op. 64, No. 2. Chopin.
7. Nocturne, Niedzielski.
8. Evening Star (Tannhauser), Wagner-Froehlich.
9. Rondo Vivace, Mozart.

*Adapted for mandolin by C. J. Levin.

PETTINE'S

DUO STYLE OF Mandolin Playing

THE only book devoted to that style. PRICE, 75c. (usual discount) Duo, trio and quartette forms of playing, pizzicati, vibrato, melody with accompaniment; all is explained in this book with interesting and progressive exercises and pieces, such as BEETHOVEN'S Adieu to the Piano, SCHUBERT'S "Serenade," etc.

Teachers sending in their card before July 15th, 1900 and 30c. in stamps will receive one copy postpaid.

Signor Pettine, the greatest Italian Mandolin Virtuoso, may be engaged for Recitals, Concerts, etc., in any part of the United States.

Write for terms and advertising matter.
Mandolin duos by Pettine—Berceuse, 35c., Impromptu, 50c.

Address,

J. E. PETTINE

Room 12 Conrad Building, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Subscription Recitals by world-famous banjoist, ALFRED A. FARLAND have been successfully managed by teachers, dealers and others in hundreds of cities, towns and villages throughout the length and breadth of this country. His printed instructions and elegant advertising matter will enable YOU to do likewise, and make money without risking a dollar.

Write for particulars AT LEAST THREE MONTHS IN ADVANCE of the date wanted.

Samples of Farland's Concert Adv. Matter. circulars describing FARLAND'S NATIONAL SCHOOL FOR THE BANJO, and the IMPROVED HARP ATTACHMENT FOR THE BANJO, also a catalogue of FARLAND'S SHEET MUSIC PUBLICATIONS, and two pieces of FARLAND'S BANJO MUSIC will be sent FREE to any address. Enclose two 2-cent stamps to pay for postage. Address

THE A. A. FARLAND CO., Rahway, N. J.

JUST OUT!

"Alice Where Art Thou"

DUO FOR ONE MANDOLIN

Price 50 Cents. One-half off.

BEAUTIFUL, YET EASY.

SEE WHAT MR. G. MUDER, THE MANDOLINIST, SAYS OF IT:

AUBURN, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1899.
DEAR SIR:—Your arrangement of "Alice Where Art Thou" is splendid and should sell well, being also a beautiful song.
Sincerely, G. MUDER.

SEND AT ONCE AND GET A COPY.

PUBLISHED BY

CHAS. BRUNOVER,

NEENAH, WIS.

NOTHING LIKE IT

EVER BEFORE PUBLISHED

Dance of the Phantoms

FOR BANJO AND PIANO.

Banjo Tuned to D with Piano.
Very Brilliant and Showy

BY VAN L. FARRAND

Banjo parts now ready for use in Club Arrangement of

March, Prince of India
Story-Teller Waltzes
The "Pixies," Dance Characteristic
Oshkosh Chief Two-Step

All for 2 mandolins, guitar, banjo and piano.

MAY E. FARRAND,

873 Jackson Building. CHICAGO, ILL.

"FOREST CITY GALOP."

2 Banjos	.40
2 Mandolins	.30
Guitar Acc.	.15
Piano Acc.	.25

"ENDYMION WALTZES."

Mandolin Solo	.30
2d Mand. Mandola, Guitar parts each	.20

Piano acc. (in press.)

"ROUMANIA MARCH."

Mandolin and Guitar	.35
2 Mand. Mandola, parts each	.15

Manuscript of Cello, Flute and Piano parts furnished for reasonable compensation.

FRANK B. SMITH

61 Penacook St., Manchester, N. H.

The Foremost
Artists, Teachers and Clubs

C. J. Levin
Sig. Pettine
Rich. L. Weaver
Frank S. Morrow
Fred. L. Turner
E. Pritchard
Van. L. Farrand
Erastus Osgood
Geo. Stannard
L. D. Burford

Lew Crouch
S. C. Roberts
G. E. Gebest
Carrol McAfee
B. Cutillo
Chas. Eger
J. E. Tordt
H. L. Theis
Frank A. Leavitt
H. J. Ritter

USE AND ENDORSE

The "Graupner & Meyer"

MANDOLINS and GUITARS

Send Stamp for Catalogue.

Mandolins and Guitars from $14.50 to $100.

GRAUPNER & MEYER, Manufacturers

THIRD AND BRISTOL STREETS, PHILA.

Mention "The Musical Tempo."

THE MUSICAL TEMPO

VOLUME 5. Subscription Price, Fifty Cents a Year in advance NUMBER 3

PHILADELPHIA, PA., JUNE 1st, 1900

TEACHERS' LEAGUE MAY FESTIVAL.

The most brilliant affair of its kind ever given in Philadelphia, was the May Festival given by the Banjo, Mandolin, Guitar and Zither League, May 7th.

Long before eight o'clock people began to fill Musical Fund Hall, a concert hall noted the world over for its acoustic properties. The concert hall where such artists as Ole Bull, Jenny Lind, Patti, and many other artists of note have appeared.

A tribute in itself eloquent, was the presence of many of the players of these instruments in the city and surrounding towns. It was an ideal evening for the concert, especially favoring the banjos. So admirably was the entire affair conducted that not one hitch, wait, disappointment or interruption occurred during the evening's entertainment. It was a genuine musical treat and notwithstanding that many came with unusually large expectations, the audience left the historic hall agreeably surprised at the initial effort of the League.

The first number on the programme was Boieldieu's Overture "Caliph of Bagdad," arranged for Banjo Orchestra by Thos. J. Armstrong. The orchestra of fifty performers was in splendid form, especially in this selection, which, with its splendid orchestration was given an interpretation of which Mr. Armstrong might well feel proud. Mr. Armstrong was given a rousing encore. In response the orchestra rendered, under the leadership of the composer, Mr. Heller's "Little Rascal." Everyone in the orchestra was anxious for the "Rascal," and to say the least they fairly eat it. If hearing and seeing is believing, the audience certainly appreciated it. Someone even left their happy home to hand Rudy a bouquet. In response to this selection the orchestra rendered in a faultless manner, Armstrong's "Realm of Beauty" March.

The Clover Quartette rendered vocal selections, among their selections being "The Holy City," which was admirably rendered.

Miss Bertha Mueller rendered a Zither Solo. Her phrasing is musicianly, and tone of a delightful quality, the clearness of the vibrato being especially noticeable. For an encore she gave an interesting rendition of the "Last Rose of Summer."

An unusual feature was the next number, a Guitar Club of twenty rendering Gavotte from "Mignon," and Wedding March from "Midsummernight's Dream," arranged by Miss Anna Jacobi. Both numbers were well received, and the club gave "May Blossoms" for their encore.

A Mandolin Solo, by Fred C. Meyer, was next on the programme. His rendition of "Reverie," by Graham, captured the audience. The selection was given in complete harmony four part, with melody sustained. For an encore he rendered in a delicate manner, Robyn's Manzanillo. The audience was not content and asked for more, to which he happily responded with a "Cradle Song," a composition of his own, rendered in quartette form, and melody with accompaniment. It proved the most pleasing of his series. His solos, which abound with harmony, proved that the mandolin without an accompanying instrument is desirable for the concert stage.

One of the most pleasing numbers of the evening's entertainment, was the Zither Quintette, under the leadership of M. Jacobi. Their rendition of Mr. Jacobi's "Lillies of the Valley" was a revelation as to the possibilities of this much neglected instrument, the Zither. The selection was rendered with much feeling and expression, and seemingly faultless technic. The Bow Zither, in the hands of Mr. Faltermayer, proved a valuable aid to the club. The audience showed their warm admiration of the club's playing with hearty applause. For an encore they gave Mr. Jacobi's "Wissahickon" Polka.

Fred Stuber and his banjo, with Thos. J. Armstrong at the piano, proved one of the genuine hits of the programme. He opened with the "Castle Square" Fantasia, and for an encore he gave the "American Rondo," but Fred never satisfies an audience with one encore, and they insisted on another, to which he responded with a tremolo rendition of "The Darkey's Home Sweet Home." He was given an enthusiastic encore, and as a closing number gave a Medley of Rag-time Melodies. Mr. Stuber was in excellent form, and his performance on the whole was masterly. A decided improvement was noticeable in his playing since his appearance at the Armstrong Concert, last November. While his execution at all times has been marvelous, on this occasion his tone quality was surprisingly good.

A Harp Solo, by Philadelphia's celebrated harpist, Signor Cortese, was a pleasing feature.

The closing number, "Endymion" Concert Waltz, was conducted by the composer, Mr. Geo. Flora. It was a composition for Mandolin Orchestra, and of the highest order, each part bringing forth some new beauty. The rapidly changing tempos here and there is a severe test on the orchestra, yet all the instruments fell into line promptly. It was a fitting climax to the programme.

For the benefit of our readers it may be of interest to state the concert was a grand success financially, paying seventy per cent. For instance a member selling ten dollars worth of tickets receives as his share, $7.00. One teacher's share amounted to nearly fifty dollars, having sold about 150 tickets.

This concert being the initial one, it was decided to secure only local talent. Another concert may be given in November, when some of the noted artists may appear.

Those who visited Music Hall last night enjoyed a rare treat. Miss Borden's recital was a most meritorious performance. Signor Pettine of Providence, "King of the Mandolin," added very materially to the success of the evening. He performed some very difficult classical selections in a manner and style of execution which showed him to be fully entitled to the distinction, "king" of that difficult instrument. Many of his selections were of his own composition and were thoroughly enjoyed.

—Fall River (Mass.) Herald.

B. G. M. and Z. Teachers' League

MAY FESTIVAL OFFICERS

M. RUDY HELLER, R. S.
Sec. and Treas. Music Committee, and Conductor.

FRED. C. MEYER, President, and Member of Music Committee.

WESLEY M. ROHRER, F. S.

BERNARD CUTILLO, Member Music Committee.

MAURICE JACOBI, Vice-President. Chairman Music Committee.

THOS. J. ARMSTRONG, Conductor.

GEO. E. FLORA, Member Music Committee, and Conductor.

O. H. ALBRECHT, Treasurer.

Copyrighted 1899, by EDWARD A. MEYER & Co.

THE FIRST PRINCIPLES OF HARMONY AS APPLIED TO MELODY.

BY R. M. TYRRELL.

CHAPTER II.

ON CHORDS AND THEIR FORMATION.

A chord is a combination of two or more notes struck together, such notes being used as will produce an agreeable effect. There are various kinds of chords: Triads, Chords of the 7th, of the 9th or 11th, and each chord has a particular designation, as Major or Minor, augmented or diminished.

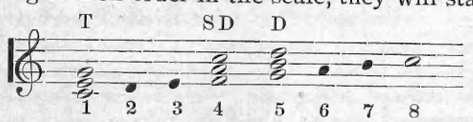
A Triad is a chord of three notes, consisting of a fundamental note, its third and fifth. The fundamental note is usually repeated in an upper voice.

A Chord of the 7th is composed of four notes, a fundamental note, its third, its fifth, and its seventh. By fundamental is meant the note of the scale from which the chord is derived. Thus C is the fundamental note of the Triad of C; G is the fundamental note of the seventh chord of G.

Every note of the scale can be the fundamental of a Triad, or of a seventh chord. Taking the scale of C as an example for all scales the Triads and Seventh chords would be presented thus:

There is a name given to each degree of the scale. Its first degree is called the Tonic, its second degree the Super Tonic, its third degree the Medient, its fourth degree the Subdominant, its fifth degree the Dominant, its sixth degree the Submedient, its seventh degree is the Subtonic or leading tone.

Each scale or key has three principal Triads; the Tonic triad founded on the first degree, the Subdominant triad founded on the fourth degree, and the Dominant triad founded on the fifth degree. As those three triads comprise every note of the scale, they stand in the most intimate relation to it, and if we wish to present the key clear and distinct, those three chords should be the most frequently employed as its accompaniment. Arranged according to their order in the scale, they will stand thus:



(To be Continued.)

"Rosaline" is the title of a most beautiful romantic song from the pen of that well-known song writer, Wm. H. Clifford, and published by the World Publishing Co., Philadelphia. We had occasion to hear it charmingly rendered by the Atlantic City Four, at that resort recently.

GARRICK AND CERVETTO.

Cervetto, the famous Violoncello player, occupied the post of principal Violoncello at Drury Lane for many years. His fame as a performer was almost matched by the celebrity of his nasal organ, the tuberosity of which often caused the audience in the gallery to exclaim, "Play up Nosey." In Dibbin's "Musical Tour," 1788, we are told that "When Garrick returned from Italy, he prepared an address to the audience, which was delivered previous to the play he first appeared in. When he came upon the stage he was welcomed with three loud plaudits, each finishing with a huzza. As soon as this unprecedented applause had subsided, he used every art, of which he was so completely master, to lull the tumult into a profound silence; and just as all was hushed as death, and anxious expectation sat on every face, old Cervetto, who was better known by the name of 'Nosey,' anticipated the very first line of the address by—aw—a tremendous yawn. A convulsion of laughter ensued, and it was some minutes before the wished for silence could be again restored. That however, obtained, Garrick delivered his address in that happy, irresistible manner in which he was always sure to captivate his audience; and he retired with applause, such as was never better given, nor even more deserved. But the matter did not rest here, the moment he came off the stage, he flew like lightning to the music room, where he encountered Cervetto, and he began to abuse him vociferously. 'Wha—why—you old scoundrel. You must be the most———.' At any length poor Cervetto said, 'Oh, Mr. Garrick! vat is the matter—vat I haf do? Oh! vat is it?' 'The matter! Why you senseless idiot—with no more brains than your Bass-Viol—just at the—a—very moment I had played with audience—tickled them like trout, and brought them to the most accomodating silence—so pat to my purpose—so perfect—that it was, as one may say, a companion for Milton's visible darkness.' 'Indeed, Mr. Garrick, it vas no darkness.' 'Stupid fool—how should a man of my reading make himself understood by—a—. Answer me—was not the house very still?' 'Yes sir still as a mouse.' 'Well, then, just at that very moment did you not, with your jaws extended wide enough to swallow a six penny loaf—yawn?' 'Sare Mr. Garrick—only if you please hear me von vord. It is alvays the vay—it is indeed, Mr. Garrick—alvays the vay I go ven I haf the greatest rapture, Mr. Garrick.' The great man's anger instantly cooled, The readiness of this Italian flattery operated exactly contrary to the last line of an epigram—the honey was tasted and the sting forgot."

Francis J. Shea, banjo teacher, was one of the features at a recent concert given in Westfield, Mass.

The Musical Tempo

Published Bi-Monthly by

EDWARD A. MEYER,

3439 Marshall St , Philadelphia, Pa., U.S.A.

EDITOR - - - - - ALVIN BUDSEIGN

Price, - - - - -	10 cents per copy
Subscription Price, - -	50 cents per year
Foreign Subscription, -	75 " " "

Entered in the Philadelphia Post Office as second-class matter.

Payment for THE MUSICAL TEMPO should be made by a Post Office Money Order, Bank Check, Draft, or an Express Money Order. When neither of these can be procured, send the money in a registered letter. No stamps taken.

Subscribers desiring their address changed should give their old as well as the new address.

Advertising Rates furnished on application. Copy of advertisements must reach us no later than the fifth of the month. Change of advertisements should reach us by the first of the month.

THE MUSICAL TEMPO is devoted exclusively to Music, and particularly the Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo. We invite correspondence on all matters of interest pertaining to the above. We do not, however, hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of correspondents.

Written for the "MUSICAL TEMPO."

HOW TO GET PUPILS.

BY ADA CHAPMAN.

Not long ago I was reading a prize offer from a Musical Journal which read as follows: A prize of $5.00 will be given for the best article of not over 500 words on "How to get pupils," submitted to teachers of mandolin, guitar and banjo. I did not join the contest, however, as I heartily disapprove of so much sarcasm manifested among our musicians. But I have a few ideas of "How to get pupils" that I might suggest, if I was sure the Mr.——— who wrote the before mentioned prize offer, did not read the "Tempo," and of course he does not, as it is only the man who appreciates a good thing that reads the "Tempo." But to the subject, "How to get pupils" I will say, first teach well the pupils you already have. Improve the one talent is, "How to get others." And if one of your pupils should be less apt than others, do not think it is time and labor lost to give him extra attention. "It is the weak lamb that needs the shepherd's care." Do not forget there was once a time when you knew nothing of music, and when a pupil makes a mistake do not correct it in an excited tone the instant it is made. It only irritates and causes many more. Wait till the exercise is finished, then refer to it, and "try again." Many teachers make great mistakes in trying to correct mistakes. We all know pupils must have encouragement, not only in word but in look. Some teachers frown at every little mistake, and think after the exercise is finished a remark, "that is very good," or "you play that very smoothly," is sufficient encouragement. This in my mind is a great mistake. Always be pleasant in your corrections. A correction made in a manner that is anything but calmness on your part is disastrous. I might say a word about correcting faults. First learn yourself and correct your own faults; then study the disposition of the pupil, which will help you to make corrections understandingly. I will relate a little circumstance that occurred recently, as it may be of interest to some new teacher. One of my (guitar) pupils had fallen into the habit of allowing the hand to rest on the large E string the instant it was picked, causing the vibration to stop. I studied a great deal how I could correct it, as she was of a nervous disposition. Finally I decided on a new plan, and when the next lesson came I asked how the hand had been conducting. She informed me there had been no improvement. But before touching a string, I said: "You may play "so and so"; I am sure your hand will behave very nicely. Now you see if I am not right. You will not rest your hand on the strings once during this exercise." The remark caused a little laugh, and as she played the exercise she thought of nothing else but the remark and the unruly hand. The result was the fault was overcome immediately. A great fault of teachers is trying to correct too many faults at once. I am more successful correcting one at a time. Strive to interest your pupil. First learn their ambitions. If one wishes to be a teacher, give him the benefit of your experience and years of hard work, do not be afraid to mention your own faults, (if you have any, eh?) in teaching a pupil the qualities of a good teacher. And if you have some original ideas, do not think it will hurt you professionally to let other teachers profit by them. Remember you are seeking ideas of other men. Teach your pupils the importance of good music, trashy music and trashy literature, go hand in hand. If you are a lover of dreamy music do not pronounce other styles trash. And if a pupil should wish to take some brilliant opera, do not insist upon a dreamy piece, simply because you may like it better with the argument. Perhaps it may seem dry to you, but it has a particular style of fingering in it that will be very beneficial to you; choose that particular style of fingering in something brilliant; your efforts will then be successful. Last but not least, do not think it will hurt your reputation to teach a pupil that is unable to pay for their lessons. Imagine your own ambitions being dashed to the ground. There are some people in this world that are born musicians, who are forced to realize but a part, a mean outline of their ambitions. My dear friend, if you should meet a person of this rank deem it a favor to yourself to teach them, and teach them the best you know.

CONCERTS

The Arions of Dallas, Texas, one of the leading mandolin clubs of this country, gave an artistic recital Feb. 23rd. Mr. Simpson, director, writes, Mr. Abt amply sustained his great reputation, and won many friends by his masterful playing. The Arion Club came in for their share of praise and surprised even Mr. Abt.

A testimonial concert was tendered J. E. Pettine at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Providence, R. I., by the Verdi Musical Club. The Providence News prints the following: "The solo playing of Mr. Pettine was as usual, of a high degree of excellence. Owing to lack of space we are obliged to omit the programme, which was highly artistic.

The Ideal Club of Worcester, Mass., gave their Fifth Annual Concert at Horticultural Hall, April 10th. Fred'k J. Bacon of Hartford, and Carlo Carciotto of Boston, were the soloists. One of the features of the banjo club was the rendition of Lansing's latest patrol, "Guardmount in Darktown." The concert throughout was thoroughly enjoyable, and reflects credit upon the instructor, Mr. Harry N. Davis, who by the way is one of the most popular teachers of the Academic City.

Copyrighted, 1900, by EDWARD A. MEYER & Co.

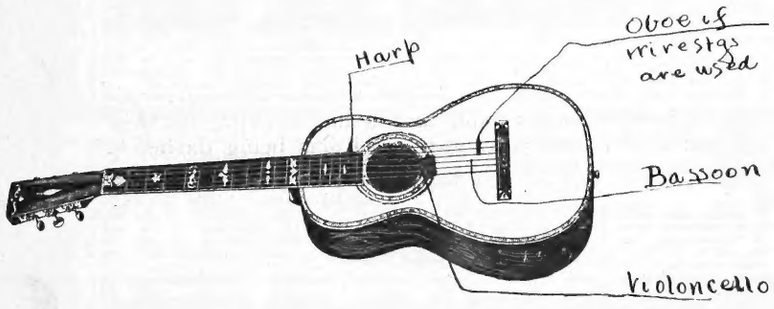
TONE COLOR.

By ROY B. SIMPSON.

PART III.

(Continued from Vol. 5, No. 2.)

The guitar is essentially the piano of the mandolin orchestra and should never be used in the orchestra in conjunction with the piano, as the effect is lost where the two are used together. The guitar must be the accompaniment instrument in the small orchestra, while the second mandolins and mandolas fill in the places occupied by the cornet and clarionet in the regulation string orchestra. The following diagram of the guitar will show clearly where the different tone qualities may be found :—



It will be seen that we have four distinct tone qualities in the guitar.

To secure the bassoon effect the strings should be struck within two or three inches of the bridge in a very decisive manner—the idea being to make a tone as "reedy" as possible.

The oboe tone on the guitar cannot be produced except where wire strings are used; in such cases the strings should be played within two inches of the bridge.

The violoncello tone is found at edge of sound hole on the G, D, A and E strings. Great care should be exercised in the way the strings are attacked. So many guitarists snap the strings by placing the thumb under the strings, lifting up and releasing it, which causes the objectionable snap and rattle. The correct way is to press the string down from the top and release it by letting the thumb slide off.

The harp tone may be found on all strings just over end of fingerboard and is especially effective in waltz movements, such as Ivanover's "Danube Waves," as shown in the following example :—

THE PRACTICAL EXAMPLES.

In order to more clearly demonstrate our theories we must make practical examples of them and will use as our first exercise a few bars from Gillet's "In the Mill." This is a characteristic piece and represents the millwright sharpening his millstone with a steel hammer. To those who have never heard the sound of a millstone during the sharpening operation, I will say that the sound is very similar to that made by striking a blacksmith's anvil with a small carpet hammer.

To render this selection effectively, a metallic tone should be produced; metallic a very staccato throughout this entire first movement which I give. (Space forbids the publication of a full arrangement.)

The mandolins and mandola should be played within one inch of bridge and the vibration of the tone should be stopped as quickly as the note is struck. This is done by releasing the pressure and allow the finger to remain on the string. No open strings in staccato movements of this kind must be played. This is the only correct way to produce a perfect staccato.

The guitar should also be played staccato. On the open basses the vibration may be stopped by the wrist of the right hand immediately after the note is struck. The entire chord may be stopped by the right hand immediately after the note is struck. The entire chord may be stopped by the right hand. It is very important that all instruments should be as a whole in staccato work, and the tone should be decidedly distinct, but as short and quick as the wink of an eye.

In the first four bars following the introduction the mill-wright is represented as just settling down to work, and is slow in making a start; for this reason we retard the first four bars. The tempo of this piece is ¼=120 or about the same tempo a company of militia would make in a regulation march.

Tune mandola A, D, G and C a fifth lower than mandolin and read as mandolin music.

The above movement is followed by an accelerando movement in C sharp minor, representing the mill-wright grinding off the rough projections with a small stone. The first movement is repeated and the mill-wright tests his work in the machine. The machinery grinds, which is represented by a brilliant movement. The mill-wright then stops his machinery, takes out the millstone and finishes with the first movement and a brilliant coda.

(To be Continued.)

THE COMPOSER.

When a publisher returns your manuscript with a short note advising you he cannot use it. Don't burn it. Some other publisher may find something good in it. Some excellent and unusual talent has often been discouraged by the rejection of their first attempts. Almost anyone would accept a manuscript of Valentine Abt's, yet some of his first attempts at composition were rejected, and by some of the largest publishing houses in the country. Rudyard Kipling too had the majority of fifty of his first attempts rejected. Many critics are supposed to know the good things after one or two readings, but many a genuine hit has been rejected from the outset.

A Criticism of Paderewski.—This is how a Kansas journalist criticised Paderewski the other day: "We heard the Polander Paderewski, play the piano in Convention Hall, Kansas City, the other night. The fellow is deceitful. He makes you think all the time he is going to play a tune, but he never does. He flirts all around a tune, but he never touches it. His hair looks like a wig, but it isn't. He deceives you in a hundred ways. He He makes the sweetest sounds you ever heard that were not a tune. He has his piano so trained that it will keep right on playing when he is not touching it. He reaches out slowly and strokes it, drawing back his elbows like a man brushing a girl's hair. You see the moonlight, and you are there with your girl, but somehow she don't love you. You know the sorrow of that, and that's why we don't like Paderewski."—London Globe.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Vess L. Ossman, we understand, sailed for London to participate in Essex and Cammeyer's big Concert.

S. S. Weeks, mandolinist, is playing the Keith Circuit. In a letter of recent date he writes: "I am much pleased with my reception in all the cities. The audiences appreciate my work. I sail for Paris next month.

Edouard Strauss, concert director of Vienna, and his famous orchestra of fifty musicians, will tour America this Fall.

The University of Wisconsin Mandolin and Glee Club, have united with some of the dramatic talent of the College, and their work is highly spoken of by the press of Chicago and surrounding cities.

The Euterpe Club of Boston, issue a neat specimen programme containing many flattering press comments on their work.

By The Dreamy Susquehanna Long Ago.

CHAS. E. BAER.
Arr. by M. RUDY HELLER.

Copyright 1900 by Jos. Morris.

BOLERO

1st MANDOLIN.

Tempo di Bolero.

By CHARLES ALEXANDER.

Copyright 1900 by Edw. A. Meyer & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

To My Friend Mr. Charles Cassiday.

HALCYON WALTZ

Solo GUITAR

Andante con Espressione.

OTTO DREGER.

Copyright 1899 by Otto Dreger.

FORGET ME NOT.

GAVOTTE.

GIESE.

THE MANDOLIN AND GUITAR IN COLLEGE LIFE.

By W. B. Hinkley,
Ex-Leader of the Wesleyan Mandolin Club.

He who is interested in the history of the mandolin and guitar will surely be pleased to note the remarkable favor they have won in our American Universities. This popularity of the silver toned mandolin in combination with the mellow toned guitar, as a distinct feature of college life is of a very recent date.

If we look back a few years, we shall find that the musical life of our college found its expression entirely in vocal music, with occasionaly a violin or flute solo. Thus, a college concert programme would be comprised of glee club songs, quartettes, violin solos and flute solos. Later the banjos and guitars were used and became very popular; but they were soon obliged to give way to the more refining influence of the mandolin and guitar. Since this introduction of the mandolin club on the college concert stage, there has been a steadily increasing demand for its presence. This is very clearly shown in instances where a college takes both a banjo club and a mandolin club on the road. In these colleges the manager frequently has calls for the glee and mandolin clubs alone. To be sure, some few audiences, before which a college club is to perform prefer often times a banjo club; but such audiences are rare. Today the mandolin club is a distinct feature of college life, and is demanded of every live college community.

The performances of the college glees, in which the mandolins figure so largely, are made the social event wherever they go, and when the clubs come before their own college, as it is their custom twice a year, their concerts are looked upon as the great social events of the college year. This prominence given to these instruments is very significant musically.

It proves that the position of the mandolin and guitar in the musical world is on a higher plane than formerly. This association with institutions of culture has tended to broaden their field of usefulness. They have been thus placed in the hands of our best American youths and brought before a public, who from the very condition of the situation must yield to them the respect and admiration which they justly deserve.

A beautiful testimonial and tribute is thus presented to their power in pleasing the music loving public. The mandolin possesses a peculiar musical charm, which even an amateur if reasonably careful in his execution, may reveal to an audience; while its sister instrument the violin demands for the displaying of a similar charm, a long period of constant practice. This fact in itself may be one of the responsible features for the mandolin acceptance on the college stage, yet it is clear this feature alone is not sufficient.

There must be some other source of attraction for the university public, and this source is found in the delightful effects produced with the club. Those delicate shading tone qualities, the mandolin's easy adaptation to varied movements, the beautifully blending back ground of the guitar, and in particular those attributes found only in the mandolin and guitar, which appeal to the romance emotion, all unite in wining the joyous applause which has resulted in making them an indispensible feature in college life.

We are also made aware by this prominence, that they have ceased to be a novelty and have become not only a source but a means of culture in themselves. When they were first used in college it was said that their life would be a short one on the college stage. As they gradually became popular, people said their popularity was due to their novelty and that this would soon wear away. I well remember the statement made to me by the head of my preparatory school music department, when one day I asked him what he thought of the mandolin. I was then thinking of taking it up before entering college. He strongly advised me to study the violin instead, saying that the mandolin would not be used by college clubs long, since their novelty would soon wear away and they would then be dropped from the college glees. Notwithstanding this advice, I began the study of the mandolin at once, under Mr. Arthur C. Robinson, of the Boston Ideal Club, and have never once been sorry of my decision.

So far from the mandolins, dropping from the college music stage, I can say after four years of concert work with the Wesleyan University Mandolin Club, that the mandolin was never more popular than today, and that this popularity is so far from waning, that I have no hesitancy in saying, the mandolin club will continue to be a permanent factor in every college musical association, and that it has gained this eminent position entirely on its own merits. The struggle it has gone through with the banjo club, which is still popular in some colleges, during this period of its evolution is alone conclusive proof of this fact.

As a source and means of culture to the performer as a college man, exceptionable opportunities are offered. He can not afford to loose these opportunities by neglecting to study the mandolin or guitar until after entering college for the following seasons.

(To be Continued.)

The Allegro, published by C. C. Adams, Dwight, Ill., has changed its title, and will hereafter be known as the Concerto. This is a newsy journal and has our best wishes.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE ZITHER IN AMERICA.

By E. G. Egge.

About 50 years ago, zither players in America were quite a curiosity. The instrument was entirely unknown and in fact but very few Germans came to this country who could play it at all. Among the most prominent pioneers, were M. Turner, J. Denk, P. L. Brachet, F. Waldecker, J. Gerbel, J. Noeroth, F. Wigand, J. Kleespies, F. Willimek, A. A. Bohne, Dr. Spranger; who settled in various parts of the land. The methods of playing and stringing differed widely, yet the sweet and characteristic tone of the zither remained the same and did not fail to produce a profound impression upon American listeners. Naturally being introduced by Germans, it first took root principally in German and German-American circles, where the zither soon became more and more popular. All players irrespective of ability were eagerly sought for and developed into teachers, and although there were some thorough musicians among them, many there were whose sole commendation lies in the fact of having introduced the instrument, but certainly not in having furthered music. We must bear in mind that every new community is composed of mixed elements and each member in his peculiar way contributes his share to the advancement of the whole.

So likewise each pioneer of zither playing is entitled to our gratitude, and not to criticism, and reproach for his efforts in furthering the popularity of the zither in America. We must not forget that the zither and its literature in those days was not what it is now. The first necessity hence was to gain as many proselytes as possible. Reform comes gradually. We must first have the raw material before we can expect to produce the finished article. It would hence be unjust to find fault with the old school of zither players and their teachings. They did what they could to the best of their ability and knowledge, and opened the field which is now left to the younger generation to cultivate. Many of our present leading and most progressive zither teachers are pupils of the old pioneers, who having exhausted the stock of their preceptors knowledge studied on themselves and strode onward in the path of progress.

So year by year the ranks of zither players have been swelled. The zither in the meantime developed wonderfully abroad; M. Albert, J. Pugh, F. Pv. Ott, P. Rudigier and other master-minds proclaimed a new era of reform. Naturally great opposition was at first encountered, but little by little the plough share of superior knowledge furrowed the soil, and the seeds of progress were sown. Our American zither players were not indifferent to the struggle abroad, but profited vastly thereby. Numbers of new zither players arrived, and many brought with them the teachings of the new system; so that gradually, we see the prejudice against the Bass Clef and normal stringing fade away. Thorough teachers and professional performers have come to this country within the past 15 years and demonstrated how the zither has advanced. The result is that not only the general public obtained a better idea of the instrument but our native teachers constantly received fresh impetus to go onward.

A demand for American publications asserted itself and to supply it our foremost teachers produced original compositions and arrangements which met with popular favor. In proportion to the development of the zither its literature has also improved. Within the past few years the zither has gained innumerable friends, and teachers are everywhere in demand. This means that the zither will before long be the popular instrument of America. It has been admitted and is being taught in the leading conservatories of Philadelphia, New York and Chicago. Thus we can safely assert that zither playing in this country is established on a sound basis, while progress and reform are being rapidly accomplished.

CONCERTS.

The Marietta Orchestra, under the direction of Fr. Schmiedeke, gave their first concert March 5th. Among the selections rendered was the "Fort Belle Gavotte," by H. L. Theis. The concert was largely attended, being a financial as well as an artistic success.

The pupils of the Mandolin, Guitar, Zither and Banjo departments of the Pennsylvania Conservatory of Music, Philadelphia, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jacobi, gave a recital at the Conservatory hall, May 28th. The programme throughout was an enjoyable one and reflected credit upon the instructors. A mandolin quintette, composed of Misses Bachman, Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobi, and Mrs. A. Paustian, rendered selections from "Midsummer Night's Dream," giving evidence of good training.

The Fourth Annual Musicale given by Miss Elizabeth Peall, at Bank Hall, Philadelphia, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. The Mt. Vernon Institute Club assisted. The club work, under the leadership of Miss Peall was excellent. The playing of Miss Peall's pupils gave evidence of her superior methods. Bank Hall was crowded and everybody present expressed themselves as delighted with the programme.

Farland gave his Second Annual Recital in Boston, May 8th, assisted by the Imperial Quartette, the Albion Male Quartette, and Heinrich Schnecker, harp soloist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Farland made a lasting impression on his audience in Boston last year, and it seemed almost impossible to let a season go by without a Farland Recital. Only seven numbers were given, but each and every one was of the highest order.

For Teachers and Players

THREE BOOKS

SEE WHAT THEY CONTAIN

Aurea Guitar Folio.

This collection of guitar music, thirty-six pages contains compositions by C. de Janon, E. H. Frey, Fred. C. Meyer, Guy E. Willey, O. R. Kraft, R. M. Tyrrell and other prominent writers, and is especially valuable to the teacher, as it can be used with any method. The compositions have been carefully selected, and we do not hesitate to say it contains the finest collection of guitar music, as yet placed before the public.

Price, 50 cts.

Write for catalogue and discounts.

BANJO ETUDES

BY LEW CROUCH

Are published in five books. They have been written especially with a view to assisting the banjo student in acquiring a soft and masterly touch, and natural ease in reading in positions.

Price, each book, 50 cts.

Write for catalogue and discounts.

Aurea Mandolin and Guitar Folio

32 PAGES

Contains music for mandolin and guitar, mandolin duos, and mandolin solos. This gives the mandolin player a varied collection of music, and you are always sure to find something therein to please, no matter what you fancy.

Price, 50 cts.

Any one of the above books will be found valuable to the teacher. To those using quantities we would be pleased to quote special prices. Send for latest catalogue.

Edw. A. Meyer & Co.

Publishers,

3439 MARSHALL ST., PHILA.

Get a Copy of the Big Song Hit,

"ROSALINE"

By WM. H. CLIFFORD

NOW BEING SUNG BY 50 STAR VOCALISTS

Get it from your Dealer, or send 25c. in stamps to the WORLD PUBLISHING CO., 326 N. 8th St., Phila.

MANDOLIN DUOS

Cradle Song (Hauser)	arr. Val. Abt	.30
Impromtu	J. E. Pettine	.50
The Red Sarafan	arr. Chas. Alexander	.30
Holy Thoughts	J. E. Pettine	.30
Fifth Melody	G. E. Gebest	.30
Berceuse	J. E. Pettine	.30
Marcia	Paganini	.30
Pizzicati (Delibes)	arr. Fred. C. Meyer	.40
Merveille	Paganini	.30
Cradle Song	F. C. Meyer	.30

THE MANDOLIN DUO is the modern style of music, the melody and accompaniment being played on one instrument. We carry the largest stock in America, if not in the world. Send stamp for our latest catalogue.

EDW. A. MEYER & CO.

Publishers, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

R. H. A. GEISTERT

Music Engraver

1111 ARCH STREET

PHILADELPHIA.

CUT THIS OUT

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

To EDWARD A. MEYER & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

I herewith enclose FIFTY CENTS for one year's subscription to the beginning with Vol. ..... No. .....

MUSICAL TEMPO

Name .....

Address .....

Town ..... County ..... State .....

OPPORTUNITIES.

At different times we are in receipt of letters from teachers asking if we know of some good field for them. Most of them complain that their city is "no good" or is "worked to death." Most of these seem to think that the successful teachers and players have attained success through good fortune. It is ridiculous for anyone to think that opportunities come to others and not to oneself. Opportunities appear everywhere, but if you do not grasp it, someone else will. The chances are the field you are now located in, is the very one you would be looking for. Perhaps the field you are now working affords greater opportunities than some new one you might select. If you are in earnest, painstaking and conscientious in your methods and attend to your duties, you cannot remain unnoticed. Every city appreciates a bright, energetic and determined person, and should you think your labors unappreciated, first study carefully yourself, review your methods, see if you can detect a plan in your work. Don't spend valuable time worrying about your competitor. You want to take care of yourself, so why worry about his business.

Any healthy young man should not offer bad luck for an excuse. Make up your mind today that you will come to your studio early in the morning and remain until you consider you have spent the entire day at your business, instead of coming to the studio at noon and leaving at three.

The following may perhaps prove interesting to you. I knew a young man who left a Western city because it was "no good" for a mandolin and guitar teacher. He had not vacated the city ten days when he heard of Mr. Smith locating there. "Why he'll starve in that town; I could'nt make a living there." But in spite of his predictions Mr. Smith prospered, and at the close of the season it seemed that almost all the young people of the city were studying the instruments. And still more, Mr. Smith had a class that netted him $35 a week, and since locating there (two years ago) two other teachers have made this their home and all three thrive.

So it can be seen that opportunities must be given careful consideration, and we would advise some of the complaining ones to carefully consider the field they are working, rather than be continually looking for a new one.

The publishers of The Cadenza have removed their offices to New York City, where the magazine will be published in future, in the very best style and will be constantly improved in quality and contents. The new home of The Cadenza, at No. 5 East 14th St., near Fifth Avenue, New York is excellently located and the prospects for the future growth of that celebrated periodical are all that could be desired.

OUR ZITHER DEPARTMENT.

The publishers of TEMPO, beginning with their April number, added a Zither Department, which has proven a move in the right direction. Many letters have been received praising the enterprising move of TEMPO, and the Zither players everywhere are delighted to know that this is the first magazine to add this as a permanent department. From time to time we shall publish interesting articles and music for this instrument, and we trust we may have the assistance of our readers and those who are interested in the instrument.

ANOTHER LEAGUE.

Another League has been launched, this time across the water, in the very midst of where much of our good music comes from. At present the League has three branches; one at Munich, Augsbourg and Moscow. Its title is the International League of Guitarists. In Munich, the League has fifty members, and Augsbourg fifteen. While in Moscow it has thirty.

The League is very much like the Banjo, Mandolin, Guitar and Zither Teachers League of Phila. Their plan is to cultivate and popularize the guitar, and also awaken interest in general among the teachers and manufacturers. Annual concerts are to be given, in which the guitar is to be heard in solo, duet, trios, ensemble and vocal, with guitar accompaniment. An exposition of instruments is also among the features.

The Philadelphia League received an interesting letter from the International League, and an exchange of notes to each other will undoubtedly prove beneficial to both organizations. The International League has our best wishes and we hope to give our readers more about the League in our next issue.

PERSONALS.

C. W. Wilcox, the eminent musician has located in New York City, where he has opened a studio for teaching and will devote his time to composing. A great many of his delightful compositions for mandolins will be published the coming Winter by H. F. Odell & Co., Boston.

Mr. J. J. Derwin, the popular teacher of Waterbury, Conn., was a visitor to the May Festival. Mr. Derwin has one of the largest classes in the New England States, which is a deserved testimonial to his painstaking and superior methods.

The well-known sketch team and illustrative song producers, Hyde and Cross, are making a tremendous hit with "Rosaline" at Versailles Park, McKeesport, Pa. This song is predicted by the best judges as a sure hit.

A STOLEN "STRAD."

It has often been remarked that to steal a valuable violin is as hazardous as to steal a child; its identity is equally imprenable, in fact cannot be disguised, save at the price of entire demolition. To use a paradox, violins, are all alike, yet none are alike. The indelible personality of the best violins has been a powerful agent in the cause of morality, and has deterred many from attempting to steal them. We have, however, instances of the undiscovered robberies of valuable instruments, and notably that of the fine Stradivari which belonged to a well-known amateur, and an attache at the British Embassy at St. Petersburg. The violin in question was numbered with the Plowden collection. I disposed of it to the amateur above mentioned in 1868. It was a magnificent violin, date 1700, in the highest state of preservation. In the year 1869, the owner of it was appointed to the Embassy at St. Petersburg and removed thither. He was a passionate lover of the violin and an excellent player. One evening he was playing at a musical party. After he had finished he placed his "Strad" in its case as usual, which he closed without locking it. The next day he was amusing himself with a parrot, which bit him on the leg; the wound appeared unimportant, but exposure to the cold brought on malignant abscess and he sank and died. In due course his representatives arrived at St. Petersburg and took charge of his property, which was brought to England. Some twelve months afterwards, a relative, Mr. Andrew Fountaine, of Norfolk, who took much interest in valuable violins, was visiting the family of the deceased man and asked to be allowed to see the Stradivari, 1609. The case was duly opened. When the violin was handed to the visitor he remarked: "There must be some mistake," and suggested that something was wrong; the wrong case had been sent, the instrument he held having no resemblance whatever, to the Stradivari, and not being worth a sovereign.

Inquiries were set afoot and it was satisfactorily proved that the case had never been opened since it had been brought to England; neither had it left the custody of the late owner's nearest relative, who had kept it secured in a chest. The next day after the occurrence of the event related above, I was communicated with and asked if I could recognize the Stradavari in question. It is unnecessary to record my answer. I might, with an equivalent amount of reason, have been asked if I should know my child. The double case was formaly opened and the violin described above taken out. "Is that the Stradivari?" I scarcely knew whether my interrogator was in earnest or not, so ridiculous was the question. It remains only to be said that the Russian authorities were memorialized and furnished by me with a full description of the instrument, but to this moment its whereabouts has never been discovered.

HERE AND THERE.

The publishers of the TEMPO are gratified at the number of teachers who have been enlisting subscribers for TEMPO. Recognized as one of the foremost journals of its class, the teachers realize that it is to their benefit to have their pupils subscribe just before starting on their vacation, as the pupil is in close touch with the musical world and returns in the Fall with renewed ambition. Besides every teacher is paid for his work, and in some cases teachers have received as their share as high as twenty dollars within a few months. Our premium list will interest you. Write today for particulars.

During a visit to Harrisburg, Mr. Rudy Heller called on Mr. Frank Morrow the noted banjoist. Mr. Heller thinks Mr. Morrow a marvel, as his work on both the mandolin and guitar is to be compared with his wonderful manipulation of the banjo.

Miss Hilda Hempel of Atlantic City, is an unusual brilliant performer on the mandolin. She renders with astonishing ease some of Siegel's, Abt and Weeks' compositions.

Frederick J. Bacon will remove to Baltimore in the Fall. At present he has a number of engagements in the New England States. Mr. Frank Smith, formerly of New London, is now located in Hartford, having charge of Mr. Bacon's old stand.

Mr. Ed. C. Fischer of Philadelphia and W. L. Clark of Honesdale, Pa., have secured a seven weeks' engagement at Atlantic City. Mr. Clark while attending the Universsty of Pa. was elected leader of the Mandolin Club for 1901. He will assume charge on returning to College in the Fall.

The Harrisburg Telegraph contains a complimentary notice to the Young Ladies' Mandolin Club of the High School and their instructor, Frank S. Morrow. In speaking of their work, it says: "The playing of the Mandolin Club was the feature of the evening. Under the direction of Mr. Frank Morrow the members rendered in an artistic manner a number of pleasing overtures.

Subscribe for the...

"TEMPO"

NEW PIECES

..for..

Mandolin, Banjo, Guitar

CLUBS OR ARTISTS

Impecunious Davis . . . Kerry Mills
Happy Hours in Coontown C. B. Brown
I've Waited Honey, waited Long for You . . . . . G. A. Nichols
Salome . . . . . Wm. Loraine
She Rests by the Suwanee River T. Stanford
Shandon Bells . . . Kerry Mills
Asleep in the Deep . . H. W. Petrie
A Japanese Serenade Wm. Loraine
Omar Intermezzo . . Wm. Loraine
Governor's March . . . Ed. S. Jolly
Sambo Cake-walk . Wm. H. Myers

SPECIAL DISCOUNT TO TEACHERS AND CLUBS.

Send for our Novelty Pamphlets "THE FAD OF THE DAY" and "FAMOUS SONGS OF THE SEA"

OUR NOVELTY CATALOGUE ALSO FREE FOR THE ASKING.

F. A. Mills Music Publisher
New York 45 West 29th Street. Chicago. Central Music Hall Building Cor State & Randolph Sts

The Major Musical Journal

IS A TREAT TO ALL WHO PLAY B. M. OR G.

NEW MUSIC EVERY MONTH

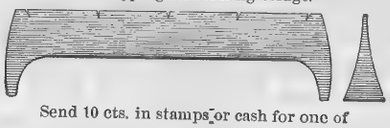
50C. PER YEAR

1 SAMPLE FREE

Barrows Music Co. Saginaw, Mich.

OF IMPORTANCE TO BANJOISTS, PICKERS and TINKERS

who all know the greatest annoyance in banjo playing is a slipping and falling bridge.



Send 10 cts. in stamps or cash for one of

Fred. B. Hammann's Patent Banjo Bridge

A bridge that is sure to stand. Mailed free. Don't fail to try one of these bridges; it will pay you.

Address, FRED. B. HAMMANN,
Banjoist and Teacher,
1826 OLIVER ST., BALTIMORE, MD.
Special price to dealers or teachers by the doz. or gross

Eusueno Seductor Waltz J. Rosas
(Impassioned Dream)

Mandolin and Guitar, ...60
2 Mandolins and Guitar, ...80
Mandolin, Guitar and Piano acc. 1.10
2 Mandolins, Guitar and Piano acc. 1.30
Piano acc. 50

Life on the Congo Schottische Ramsdell

1 or 2 Banjos 40
Mandolin and Guitar 30
2 Mandolins and Guitar 40
Mandolin, Guitar and Piano accc. .50
2 Mandolins, Guitar and Piano acc. .60
Piano Solo 40
Piano acc. 25

One-half Discount to the Profession.

THE RAMSDELL MUSIC CO.,
Music Hall. BOSTON, MASS.

DECIDEDLY BEAUTIFUL AND ORIGINAL

"TZIGANI DANCES No. 1."
"TZIGANI DANCES No. 2."

By CARRIE JACOBS BOND Arr. by E. H. FREY

Mand. and Gr. . . . 60 cts. Mand. and Pa. 60 cts.
2 " " " . . . 80 cts. " " 80 cts.
Mandolin, Guitar and Mandola $1.00
2 " " Flute and Cello $1.20
6 pts. and Piano $1.50

These numbers are first class and you will put them on your programs immediately.

USUAL DISCOUNT

H. E. McMILLIN
27 Superior Street, CLEVELAND, O.

STEPHEN SHEPARD

PUBLISHER OF

Superb Concert Solos

Sheet Music and Progressive Studies for the Banjo

Goldby & Shepard's Progressive Studies have been thoroughly revised and brought up to date with the latest system of alternate fingering for the modern banjo of 22 frets, and contain many new features.

These Studies have been in use among the best teachers for 10 years and are still in the lead.

Send stamp for Catalogue.

STEPHEN SHEPARD
P. O. BOX 875 PATERSON, N. J.

Fred. C. Meyer's

Compositions and Arrangements

FOR

MANDOLIN

❁

DUOS

CRADLE SONG, ...30
MERVEILLE, . . . Paganini .40
PIZZICATI, ... Deleives .40
MARCIA, ... Paganini .30

❁

FOR GUITAR

FOR WHAT THOU ART, . . .30
LOVE'S OLD SWEET SONG, .40
MARCH OF THE GUARDS, .40
INTERMEZZO, ...30
PLEASANT REVERIES WALTZ .40
TANZWEISE, ...40

EDW. A. MEYER & CO.
Publishers,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Watch This Space!

SOMETHING NEW
EACH ISSUE

BOLERO

BY

CHARLES ALEXANDER

The above composition is in Bolero movement throughout, and written especially for Mandolin. It will lend variety to your repertoire.

MANDOLIN SOLO,	.30
MANDOLIN AND GUITAR,	.50
TWO MANDOLINS AND GUITAR,	.60
MANDOLIN AND PIANO,	.60
TWO MANDOLINS AND PIANO,	.75

Order from your dealer or direct from the publishers,

EDW. A. MEYER & CO.

PHILADELPHIA.

Comic Opera Successes

ARRANGED FOR

We allow one-half off on marked price of Sheet Music

		Mandolin Solo	Mandolin and Guitar or Piano	2 Mandol's and Guitar or Piano
The Fortune Teller March . . .	[Victor Herbert]	35	50	60
" " Waltzes	" " .	40	60	75
" " Selection	" " .	50	75	1.00
Lily and the Nightingale	" " .	35	50	60
Always Do as People Say You Should	" " .	35	50	60
Gypsy Love Song	" " .	35	50	60
The Jolly Musketeer March . . .	[Julian Edwards]	35	50	60
" " Waltzes	" "	40	60	75
" " Selection	" "	50	75	1.00
Friends	" "	35	50	60
The Wishing Well	" "	35	50	60
Love for an Hour	" "	35	50	60
The Ameer March	[Victor Herbert]	35	50	60
" " Waltzes	" " .	40	60	75
" " Selection	" " .	50	75	1.00
" " Cupid Will Guide	" " .	35	50	60
The Jolly Musketeer, Yorke (Maz.)	[Julian Edwards]	35	50	60
Cyrano de Bergerac March .	[Victor Herbert]	35	50	60
" " " Yorke (Maz.)	" " .	35	50	60
" " " Waltz	" " .	40	60	75
" " " Selection .	" " .	50	75	1.00
The Singing Girl March	" " .	35	50	60
" " " Waltz	" " .	40	60	75
" " " Selection	" " .	50	75	1.00

BANJO—Fortune Teller Waltz, 2d Banjo ad. lib. .50
" " March, " " .50

SEND FOR Our New Thematic Catalogue of Mandolin, Guitar, Banjo and Zither Music.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS TO TEACHERS AND CLUBS

JUST OUT—Our New Mandolin and Guitar Folio No. 3, Price 50 cts. net. 1st Mand. part 25c. 2d Mand. part 25c. net.

M. WITMARK & SONS

NEW YORK—8 W. 29th St. CHICAGO—Schiller Building

LONDON TORONTO HAVANA

JUST OUT! BERCEUSE BY PETTINE

Mandolin Duo, = = = 35 cts.

A very pretty Mandolin Duo that is destined to outshine Pettine's previous efforts. It is of medium grade, and can be used in teaching.

Other compositions by Pettine are:

VALZER STUDIO, Mandolin Solo, - .60
HOLY THOUGHTS, Mandolin Duo, .30
CRADLE SONG, Mandolin and Piano, .50
IMPROMPTU, Mandolin Solo, - .50

EDW. A. MEYER & CO., Publishers,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Memories of Farland

Artistic Banjo Solo, - - - 40 cts.
"Thoughts of The Cadenza" in press and others in preparation as also list, etc.

S. DUNCAN BAKER,

Natchez, Miss.

Subscribe for the "Tempo" To-Day

TEACHERS, ATTENTION!

Tyrolean Dances, a beautiful Guitar Trio for 1st, 2d, and 3d guitats, each part on separate sheet, orchestra size. A pleasing concert number sent to your address on receipt of ten cents.

A Day In the Cottonfield, the favorite with clubs.

Two mandolins and Guitar 60 Mandolin and Piano 50

SEND 15 CENTS FOR SAMPLE COPY.

C. D. SMITH, 5321 Halsted St., Chicago.

The Delphian Collection

For MANDOLIN and GUITAR ORCHESTRA

Every Part Published separate	Mandolin Solo	Mandolin and Guitar	Two Mandolins, and Guitar	Two Mandolins, Mandola, Guitar	Piano Acc.	Cello	Flute
Song of the aves . . . . . W. N. Winans	20	30	40	50	25	10	10
Whispering Winds Shottische . W. A. Winans	20	30	40	60	25	10	10
Country Club Waltz . . . . . F. A. Nickerson	30	50	70	90	40	20	20
Ivanhoe March . . . . . F. A. Nickerson	20	30	40	50	25	10	10
Fleurette Polka . . . . . R. E. Hildreth	20	30	40	50	25	10	10
Sultana Waltz . . . . . F. A. Nickerson	20	30	40	50	25	10	10

BANJO SOLOS AND DUETS

Selections marked thus * are arranged for 2 Banjos.

*Burdett March . . S. C. Roberts .40
*Rockaway Galop . . . S. C. Roberts .35
Blue Bell Waltz . . J. T. Witaker .30
*Coral Waltz . . . . . F. J. Shea .30
*The National Council, O. U. A. M., (March) . . . S. C. Roberts .75

BANJO AND PIANO

*Burdett's March . . . . . S. C. Roberts .75

S. C. Roberts Music Co.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

GEO. L. LANSING'S

COMPOSITIONS FOR BANJO

The Dickey Dance, 2 Banjos, . .30
My Old Kentucky Home (varied) .35
Jasper's Symphony, 2 Banjos, . .30
Guardmount in Darktown, . . .30

EDW. A. MEYER & CO.

PUBLISHERS,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"THE FILIPINO SHUFFLE"

TWO-STEP AND CAKE-WALK is the hit of the Season
For TEN CENTS (silver) we will send a copy for Mandolin and Piano or Banjo and Piano. Also for sale at all music stores.

GUITAR PLAYERS:—Send us FIFTEEN CENTS (silver) and get one of our special tested D, A or E Guitar Strings, the very best made. State which string you want. Send teacher's card for our liberal discount.

H. F. ODELL & CO., 165 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

BACON'S "Neverslip" BANJO BRIDGE.

This Bridge is "Non-slipping"

Combines all the points necessary in first-class banjo bridge, with the adhesion to head under most violent usage. Send 10 cts. for sample, stamp or silver.

F. J. BACON, Hartford, Conn.

Subscribe for Tempo

Wright "Peerless" Strings

For Banjo, Mandolin and Violin

Preferred by Artists — TRADE LEW STRINGS MARK — Warranted the Best

New Wholesale Catalogue of Strings mailed free. Liberal discount to dealers and clubs.

LOUIS WRIGHT,
String Importer, West Winsted, Conn.

BOSTON, July 29, 1897.
MR. LOUIS F. WRIGHT, Winsted, Conn.
DEAR SIR:—I find your "Peerless" guitar strings of a very superior quality, equal, if not better than the best that I have used. They are true, good tone and strong. Please hasten my present order, as I am completely out of some of the strings.
Yours truly,
WALTER JACOBS, Guitar Soloist Composer.

BUSINESS NEED NEVER BE DULL

With the Teacher who uses

Stannard's Preliminary Studies

Arranged for
TWO BANJOS
TWO GUITARS
and TWO MANDOLINS
For Class and Individual Work

Published in 5 books; each instrument 40c. each book. Sample copy 10 cts.
Cash with all orders.

GEO. STANNARD

Music Publisher Trenton, N. J.

MUSIC ENGRAVING AND PRINTING

Copyrights attended to. Estimates furnished.

Sheet Music, Books, Band and Orchestra, Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar, Etc.

TITLE PAGES BY ALL PROCESSES—Engraved, Lithographic, Zinc Etching and Half-Tones.

NOTICE—We will make you the following SPECIAL OFFER for a SHORT TIME and you should take advantage of it at once.
Engraving Two Mandolins and Guitar (3 plates in all) and title, paper and printing 250 copies, $11.25, complete.
Engraving 4 sheet music plates and title, paper and printing 250 copies, $11.50. 500 copies complete, $14.75

CASH MUST ACCOMPANY ORDER OR MANUSCRIPT.

Wm. McLaughlin & Sons, 541 Diamond St., Phila.

HOLZAPFEL & BEITEL,

Manufacturers, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

HIGH-GRADE MANDOLINS, GUITARS AND BANJOS

Our Triple String Mandolins are unexcelled in Touch, Tone and Workmanship.

GUITARS AND BANJOS ARE OF THE HIGHEST ORDER.

We guarantee our Instruments for two years from date of purchase against warping, unglueing, or any other failure, due to poor workmanship or to the use of inferior material.

"INSTRUMENTS MADE TO ORDER"

306 PEARL STREET, BALTIMORE, MD.

The Musical Tempo Premium List

For a short time we shall offer the following list of Premiums in order to increase the circulation of the TEMPO.

All of our Premiums will be found valuable to the musician. Music and books offered are recent issues, NOT OLD. Teachers and players will find it an easy matter to obtain five or more subscriptions. We will furnish you all the copies necessary FREE, or mail copies to any musical people whose addresses you may send us. It is not necessary that you wait until you have received the required number of subscriptions you are working for. Send them as you enlist subscribers. Your premium can be selected at any time.

Cash must accompany all orders. Remit by P. O. or Express Money Orders, Bank Drafts, or Registered Letter. Make payments and address all communications to

EDW. A. MEYER & CO., Publishers,
3439 Marshall St., Philadelphia, Pa.

PREMIUMS

We will send post-paid, any one of the following premiums to every subscriber sending in ONE SUBSCRIPTION, not their own

Any Banjo, Mandolin or Guitar Music in our Catalogue List Price, 50 cts.

Book No. 1 of "Banjo Etudes" by Lew Crouch

TWO SUBSCRIPTIONS

To any subscriber sending TWO SUBSCRIPTIONS, not including their own, with $1.00, we will send any one of the following:

Aurea Mandolin and Guitar Folio, 32 pages
Aurea Guitar Folio, 36 pages
Books 1 and 2 of Banjo Etudes, by Lew Crouch
Banjo, Mandolin or Guitar Music from our catalogue, list price, $1
1 Set of Mandolin Strings.

THREE SUBSCRIPTIONS

For Three Subscriptions, with $1.50, any one of the following:—

Mandolin Cover (Felt) One Set of Banjo Strings
Books 1, 2 and 3 of Banjo Etudes, by Lew Crouch.
Music from our Catalogue, list price, $1.50.
One Set Copper Mandolin Strings.

FIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS

For Five Subscriptions, with $2.50, any one of the following:—

Music Stand One Set of Guitar Strings
Pitch Pipe for Banjo, Mandolin, or Guitar.
Music from our Catalogue, list price, $2.50.
1 copy each Aurea Mandolin and Guitar Folio.

NOTE—For larger number of subscriptions liberal CASH Premiums will be given.

World Music Printing Co., 326 North 8th Street, Phila.

The AUREA GUITAR FOLIO

Extreme care has been taken in compiling this collection. It is arranged in a manner to be used in connection with any Guitar instructor, containing compositions of different grade of difficulty. If you play or teach the Guitar you CANNOT AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT IT.

PRICE, 50 CTS.

Contents

For What Thou Art, ... arr. Fred C. Meyer
Serenade, ... C. de Janon
Aurea Waltz, ... O. R. Kraft
"Rough Rider" Two-Step, ... R. M. Tyrrell
Dance Tanzweise, ... arr. Fred C. Meyer
Shepherd Boy, ... arr. Carrol McAfee
Aurea Mazurka, ... C. de Janon
Pleasant Reveries Waltz, ... Fred C. Meyer
Morning Star Waltz, ... O. R. Kraft
March of the Guards, ... Fred C. Meyer
Magniscope March, ... E. H. Frey
Love's Old Sweet Song, ... arr. Fred C. Meyer
Consolation . . . . . arr. Guy E. Willey
Intermezzo, ... arr. Fred C. Meyer
Frog's Waltz, ... C. de Janon

Order from your Dealer, or direct from the Publishers. Send for Catalogue.

EDW. A. MEYER & CO., Publishers,

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS!

OFFER EXTRAORDINARY

$2.75 worth of music for only $1.00.

GRAND DESCRIPTIVE OVERTURE

A Dream of Fairyland
A. ANSDEN
2 Mandolins and Guitar, $1.00

Joy and Pleasure Waltzes
C. H. YAHRLING
2 Mandolins and Guitar, 75c

Cinderella Soot Cakewalk
C. H. YAHRLING
2 Mandolins and Guitar, 50c

Susan Snowballs Soiree
Characteristic March
S. E. MORRIS
2 Mandolins and Guitar, 50c

For 30 days only we will send these four "Hits" to any address for $1.00, send money order or currency, any single number one-half off list price. Write for sample parts. Order at once.

The C. H. Yahrling Music Co.,
YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

TEACHERS, ATTENTION
Just Issued
Stahl's New Banjo Method

The most comprehensive and practical method that has ever been compiled, and the only one in which a thorough knowledge of the instrument can be acquired without recourse to other text books and studies. The elementary studies and preparatory exercises are progressively arranged so that the student will find in them a study of much pleasure, also a careful treatise on right and left hand harmonics. A perfect analysis of the tremolo, major and minor scales clearly defined. A thorough explanation of the modern right and left hand fingering.

Price $1.00 post paid.

Liberal discount to teachers and dealers. Address

WM. C. STAHL, Publisher
211 Grand Avenue, MILWAUKEE, WIS.

The Artist Instrument
Salos, Mandolins Mandolas Mandocellos

A Cremonitone in reality. More volume—most sonorous. No metallic harshness. It will never wear out, and positively improves with usage. It is in truth a Genuine Improvement Covered by 13 patents in 11 countries. Workmanship the best. Our catalogue will interest you. Send for it.

SIMPSON & KOYE, Dallas, Texas.

Talk about Your Swell Numbers
GET THE
"KENTUCKY GALLOPADE"
2 Banjos 60 cts.
Address, RICHARD J. PRESTON,
24 River Street, FITCHBURG, MASS.
USUAL DISCOUNT

Progressive Mandolin Club Studies contain the usual material for teaching. Scales, Chords, Exercises and very easy prices. So arranged that Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo, can be taught in clubs or classes from the very beginning. Two books for each instrument, each book 40c.

The Progressive Collection a set of easy pieces designed to assist teachers and attract pupils.

The Capital Collection standard club pieces. All good and popular.

Some Catchy Guitar Solos in regular and Spanish tuning. Best discounts to teachers, leaders and dealers. Send for Thematic Catalogue.

S. A. GREGG
612-14 Ohio St. — SEDALA, MO.

Subscribe for Tempo